

Links

These are a few pages we thought you might find interesting.

If you find any more why not send them in?

Please surf with care! The Haemophilia Society is not responsible for the content of other sites.

Related Links

The Haemophilia Society The main website for the Haemophilia Society.

Women Bleed Too The Haemophilia Society are running the Women Bleed Too project to highlight the needs of women with bleeding disorders.

The Inhibitor Support Group The Inhibitor Support Group has been set up to help people of all ages living with an inhibitor or acquired haemophilia.

Travel Factor This site gives you some helpful tips about travelling with a bleeding disorder.

Factor Fitness The site that gives you advice about staying active with a bleeding disorder.

Los-bleedos Los Bleedos aims to be the number one website for young people with haemophilia from around the world to exchange experience and ideas. We hope the website can help build stronger ties between youth groups and promote new ways of cooperation, ultimately strengthening the youth groups themselves.

Brook Brook are a well respected and confidential service for those who want to know more about sexual health issues.

Teenage Health Freak A good place to look for answers to questions about your health in general.

Some information from the NHS on health, hospitals, and tests.

BBC Newsround Young Bloods member Connor is interviewed for BBC Newsround.

Young Bloods India Trip One of our members, Tom, travels to India to find out about haemophilia care there.