

The story of Thomas

Thomas is 10 years old and has severe haemophilia A.

He has just returned from a 3 day school trip to Edale in Derbyshire.

The school trip took a lot of organising and support from all involved, but with Thomas' determination he was able to participate with all the adventurous activities alongside his school friends. This included abseiling, weasling, canoeing and raft building and very long walks up and down the surrounding hills.

Amanda, his mother, said: "We are all very proud of Thomas, he never lets haemophilia ever become an obstacle for anything!"
